Henthorne has done several things. We have a plaque in the auditorium, labeled "Clarkies' Crew" with names of volunteers who've done extraordinary work over multiple years. We had a small "Oscar" that went to the Volunteer of the Year award. The Council the last couple of years has hosted a restaurant get together for volunteers. When Julie was here she gave loaves of bread at Christmas. Directors usually write thank you notes to the volunteer actors that are in the plays.

More CAPRA information needed.

What, if any, forms of recognition do either of you give to volunteers for their work with your programs and activities?

Thanks - Joe
